Plan now to attend the 2004 Internet Evangelism Coalition Annual Meeting!

You're invited to attend the IEC Annual Meeting
September 14-15 in Chicago, IL. You'll have the opportunity to . . .

- Network and learn from others who share your vision and passion for using the Internet to spread the Good News of Jesus Christ.
- Share more about your online ministry in small groups as well as hear and learn from the experiences of others.
- Discuss what works and what doesn't when sharing your faith online . . . in stimulating roundtable discussions and one-on-one.
- Explore tools and resources to make your online ministry more effective.
- Hear informative speakers well-versed in both ministry and technical backgrounds share the latest information about ministry on the Internet.
- Learn more about IEC collaborative projects and networking with international groups involved in Internet Evangelism.
- Worship—as together we focus on Christ.

SPEAKERS

Lee Rainie, Pew Internet & American Life Project, will speak on "Spiritual Life Online: How Americans use the Internet for Religious Purposes." Rainie is Director of the Pew Internet & American Life Project and will discuss who's online, what they do, how they feel about it and what impact it has had on them. He will also describe the three major pieces of research his organization has done into how people use the Internet to get religious and spiritual information.

Andrew Careaga, www.e-vangelism.com, author of three books and numerous articles about the convergence of spirituality and Internet technology.

Eric Celer, Top Chrétien, will present information on his ministry, a French-based web site focused on evangelism.

Keith Stonehocker, www.Christianitytoday.com, will report on international Internet evangelism efforts. Keith will give an update on the IEC International Strategy Group and IEC Global Forum. Keith is Executive Vice President of R&D for Christianity Today International. He has been involved in CTI's new product development for the past 29 years, including CTI's Internet efforts over the past 10 years.

Richard Post, www.eo.nl, will speak on "Why Jesus?" the power of e-learning. "Why Jesus?" is a four-week online Alpha Course based on the Dutch Alpha Course. "Why Jesus?" is beginning to spread to other countries and a youth version will be launched next year in cooperation with Youth for Christ. Richard is Editor-in-Chief of "Why Jesus?" and Internet Counselor for the Evangelical Broadcasting Organization in the Netherlands.

Robby Richardson, GospelCom.net, will report on the developing relationship between the IEC and the National Religious Broadcasters. Robby is the Director of Internet Ministries for Gospel Communications International \(GCI\). Before coming to GCI, he served as a pastor and the director of a Christian conference center in South Carolina. Robby is married with three college-age children.

Debra Brown, Brown Governance, reports on "Internet E-vangelism Day – Encouraging the Church in Web Evangelism." Debra is President and CEO of Brown Governance, a corporation that builds customized corporate governance and risk management systems, assists clients with goal setting and visioning, aligning and resourcing strategic objectives and selecting the right performance measures.
